Creating and Maintaining a Strong Visual Identity

A critical key to the success of the Western brand is correct and consistent use of its brand identity. This identity is the extension of the Western brand used in all communications.

The Western Graphic Standards Manual reviews the various elements and tools comprising the graphic foundation of Western’s brand. The Western visual identity applies a unique design approach to all Western communications, including signage, correspondence materials, advertising, stationery, presentations and brochures.

The guide explains the correct usage of the Western logo, colours, typography, and layout styles that form the basis of Western’s overall communications system.

The Western Graphic Standards Manual must be followed closely in all Western communications to ensure consistency.

A unified visual identity for Western will strengthen our ability to gain greater recognition for our world-class research and teaching at home and abroad.

Guiding Principles
1. The new visual identity is mandatory — its standards must be applied universally with only noted exceptions.

2. You must use only the new visual identity elements including logo and stationery on any new materials. Old logos, stationery and other branding material should be used up and transitioned to the new format outlined in this manual as soon as possible.

3. We do not expect staff to be “design experts.” Appropriate templates/examples have been developed and are available.

4. If in doubt, review outgoing items with Western Communications.
About the Shield

The shield is a celebration of Western’s history and its future. The shield blends elements from the University’s London, Ontario heritage and its proud Canadian roots. It also declares its founding year and represents a founding Chancellor.

These elements together create a story of history, pride and tradition. As a global university, the shield establishes Western as a prestigious educational institution.

The shield should always accompany the “Western” wordmark. In rare circumstances the shield can be used on its own, but to do so you must acquire permission from Western Communications. The shield must never be altered. Redrawing or manipulating the shield compromises the integrity of the Western brand. See page 12.

Rising sun: represents optimism, life, light and strength.

The book of knowledge represents academia and incorporates Western’s founding year: 1878.

The demi lion is derived from the coat of arms of Canon Alfred Peache who, in 1862, gave an endowment that made possible the establishment of Huron College. Peache would become Western’s second Chancellor.

The maple leaf: immediately indicates we are a Canadian University.

The stag comes from the City of London’s coat of arms.
Simplified Shield

To ensure clear legible reproduction of the shield at very small sizes, Western has developed a “simplified shield.”

The simplified shield should be used when the shield is smaller than 8mm wide.

The simplified shield must always accompany the “Western” wordmark. It must never be used on its own.

The simplified shield must never be altered. Redrawing or manipulating the simplified shield compromises the integrity of the Western brand. See page 12.
The Shield: Full and Simplified Versions

The shields should always accompany the “Western” wordmark. It should never be used on its own unless approved by Western Communications. The shield must never be altered. Redrawing or manipulating the shield compromises the integrity of the Western brand. See page 12.

Reverse Shield
When the logo knocks out of a dark background, use the reverse shield. It has a white border keyline to define the exterior. Do not “invert” the shield, always use the proper artwork provided.

Shield
The shield is a modern interpretation of Western’s original coat of arms.
About the Logo

The logo is one of the most important visual components of our brand identity. Its function is to clearly and strongly identify our University. Its typography, colour, crest and configuration are unique.

Used consistently over time, the logo will be recognized within Canada and throughout the world; it will associate itself with excellence and all the qualities our institution represents.

This page shows the “horizontal logo,” a combination of the wordmark, shield and descriptor.

Wordmark

The Western wordmark is typeset in a custom serif typeface created for the new logo. The typeface, named in honour of our founder, Bishop Isaac Hellmuth, is called Hellmuth.

Descriptor

Outside of London, Ontario, it’s important to use the logo with the descriptor. It immediately identifies Western as a university in Canada.

The logo is a custom element and should only be reproduced from authorized electronic artwork. Any substitution or alteration of the logo is not acceptable.
Variations of the Logo

Variations of the logo may be used when the full horizontal logo cannot be applied because of format restrictions or legibility reasons.

The stacked logo with descriptor is ideal for vertical applications on materials that will be used for external purposes.

The alternate logos (without descriptors) should be used on materials within the Western community.

The alternate logos are custom elements and should only be reproduced from authorized electronic artwork. Any substitution or alteration of the alternate logos are not acceptable.
Black

The Logo in Black

The logo should only be used in black where colour is not permitted. The logo in black can be used on stainless steel water bottles or signs and other ephemera, exceptional print circumstances (newspapers, black and white digital reproduction, photocopies, etc.)
Clear Space

The logo must be placed within a specific isolation area. This will give the logo presence when used in combination with other identities or graphic elements.

The clear space is defined differently depending on the logo.

x = Half width of shield
Minimum Size

Minimum sizes of the logos have been established to maintain legibility.

The minimum size for the horizontal logo with the full shield is 42mm wide.

The minimum size for the horizontal logo with the simplified shield is 35mm wide.

The minimum size for the stacked logo is 27mm wide.

The minimum size for the stacked logo without descriptor is 13mm wide.

Same minimum size restrictions apply to logo without descriptor. If the logo is smaller than 42mm, the simplified shield should be used.
Improper Use

These examples show improper usage of the logo. Any change from the approved logo is not permitted.

The logo must be used correctly to ensure that its visual impact and integrity are not diluted or compromised. Always reproduce the logo from approved electronic artwork only.

These examples are not intended to form a complete list.

- Do not change the relationship between the “Western” and “UNIVERSITY • CANADA”.
- Do not typeset the logo. Do not change the alignment of the elements.
- Do not stretch, condense or distort the logo in any way.
- Do not change the size or relationship of “UNIVERSITY • CANADA”.

Faculty Logos: Horizontal

The horizontal faculty logos consist of the Western wordmark, shield and Hellmuth font. In the case of a named faculty, Benton font is used for the descriptor.

The horizontal faculty logos are designed to be used when a horizontal application is necessary such as web sites or online banners.

The horizontal faculty logos are custom elements and should only be reproduced from authorized electronic artwork. Any substitution or alteration of the logos is not acceptable.

Department names cannot be added to faculty logos.

As named faculties, the Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry and the Ivey Business School have separate detailed standards manuals to ensure consistent co-branding.
Horizontal (positive and reverse)

Faculty Logos: Horizontal

These logos were designed to prominently represent our faculties and create a consistent brand architecture within the University.

Unique to Western, this system was created to set faculty names at the same level as the University.
Faculty Logos: Stacked

The stacked faculty logos consist of the Western wordmark, shield and Hellmuth font. In the case where descriptor text is necessary, the Benton font is used.

The stacked faculty logos are designed to be used when the crest in the horizontal logo becomes too small or when space allows. It can be used when a vertical or horizontal application is necessary.

The stacked logos are used on print materials including envelopes, business cards and letterheads.

Department names cannot be added to faculty logos.

As named faculties, the Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry and the Ivey Business School have separate detailed standards manuals to ensure consistent co-branding.
Faculty Logos: Stacked

These logos are an integral part of the visual identity system.

Their design was carefully considered to represent the intricate relationship that exists at Western between schools, faculties and the institutions.
Clear Space

Faculty Logos: Clear Space

The faculty logo must be placed within a specific isolation area. This will give the faculty logos presence when used in combination with other identities or graphic elements.

The clear space in the faculty logos is always determined by the height of the “W” in “Western.”

Faculty Logos: Minimum Size

Minimum sizes of the faculty logos have been established to maintain legibility.

The minimum size of the faculty logos is dictated by the shield. The width varies for horizontal and stacked faculty logos.

The minimum size for the horizontal faculty logo is 7 mm high.

The minimum size for the stacked faculty logo is 10 mm high.

The minimum size for the stacked faculty logo with descriptor is 14 mm high.
Sub-brand Logos

The sub-brand logos consist of the Western wordmark, shield and Hellmuth font.

The horizontal logos are designed to be used when a horizontal application is necessary such as web sites or online banners.

The stacked logos are designed to be used when the crest in the horizontal logo becomes too small or when space allows. It can be used when a vertical or horizontal application is necessary.

The stacked logos are used on print materials including envelopes, business cards and letterhead.

The same guidelines for clear space (see page 17) apply to sub-brand logos.

The sub-brand logos have been limited to these seven units. No other sub-brand logos can be created.
Named Program Logos

The named program logos consist of the Western wordmark, shield and Benton font used as the descriptor.

The stacked named program logos are designed to be used when the crest in the horizontal logo becomes too small or when space allows. It can be used when a vertical or horizontal application is necessary.

The stacked logos are used on print materials including envelopes, business cards and letterheads.

This treatment is restricted to named programs.

The same guidelines for clear space (see page 17) apply to named program logos.
The Western Research Park serves as a strong link between academics and commerce, and is a key contributor to the movement of an idea or a discovery from concept to the marketplace. The main Research Park is located adjacent to Western University and is home to more than 200,000 square feet of office space, lab space and industrial grade space.

In recent years the Park has expanded to include sites in Sarnia-Lambton, the Discovery Park and the Advanced Manufacturing Park.

As an umbrella division for research and discovery, Western has branded the main Park and affiliated parks consistent with research centres and institutes at Western.
Centre and Institute Logos

The centre and institute logos consist of the Western wordmark, shield and Benton font used as the descriptor.

This treatment cannot be used for any other departments or support units on campus.

It is strictly used for University approved centres and institutes.

Logos will be supplied by Western Communications. Do not alter them in any way.

The same guidelines for clear space (see page 17) apply to centre and institute logos.
Western employed a translation expert and consulted with students and alumni in Hong Kong and Mainland China, as well as with faculty and staff on campus. The Hong Kong Advisory Board unanimously endorsed the new name that is included in this logo.

The Hong Kong Advisory Board noted that the recommended name meets the highest test where the meaning and sound of the name connote positive, relevant meaning consistent with the English name.

The Chinese logo is available in Traditional and Simplified Chinese versions.
Western’s campus police, fire safety, emergency management and foot patrol professionals serve to protect and keep our campus safe.

The logos for each of these units have been updated with the new shield.

Hellmuth: Our Custom Typeface

Hellmuth is a custom-made serif typeface that is truly unique to Western. It is named in honour of Western’s founder, Bishop Isaac Hellmuth.

It is a “modern” serif font of extreme thins and thicks, with traditional fine serifs and distinct flourishes. Slightly narrow with a high x-height, it sets with a precise elegance.

Hellmuth is used in logos only. The primary typeface is Benton Sans (see page 27).
Benton Sans

The primary font to be used is Benton Sans. Benton Sans Light and Book are the preferred weights for body copy in publications. Benton Sans Medium and Bold should be used for heads, sub-heads and call-outs. Do not set entire documents or paragraphs in Benton Sans Medium or Bold. Benton Sans Bold should not be used for typesetting of large sections of body copy.

Name Badges

Name badges should be 3.5” x 1.25” on a silver plaque with rounded corners and black engraving.

The stacked Western logo is placed .13” from the left at 1” high centered vertically.

Staff names are centered on the right in 20 pts. BentonSans Bold on 22.2 pts. leading. If necessary, due to name length, font and tracking values may be reduced to fit. Names are to be in all caps.

On name badges with titles, secondary information is set in 12 pts. BentonSans on 14.5 pts. leading. Titles are set in BentonSans Bold. Department names are set in BentonSans Medium. If necessary, font and tracking values can be reduced to keep each on one line.

When using faculty logos, the horizontal version should be placed .15” from the top at .25” tall. For exceptionally long faculties, such as Arts & Humanities, scale will need to be reduced accordingly. Information is vertically centred below logo.

Western Communications can advise on appropriate suppliers to ensure consistency in quality.
Applications of the Logo

The logo can be applied to a wide variety of materials and ephemera. Please utilize the guidelines provided throughout this graphic standards manual (to apply graphics).

It is important to follow the guidelines provided to uphold the integrity of the Western brand.
When embroidering, the simplified shield should be used and be at least 38mm tall. Through numerous tests we have determined that this minimum size must be met to retain detail in the shield.

Due to the size of faculty logos, it is best to use the stacked Western logo with the faculty name embroidered in Benton on the sleeve or on the opposite side of the chest.
At campus book stores throughout North America it is common to see clothing with the University's name in a collegiate slab serif. Western has chosen Berthold City Bold as its slab serif.

Due to the size and nature of ephemera materials, the simplified shield will often need to be used. The simplified version of the shield is recommended when engraving and embroidering items where detail in the full shield causes concern. It should be used in all cases when the shield reduces down to 8mm in width or less.
